FOREWORD

We have traveled over the road of education and arrived at the crossroads. Ahead lies many avenues. Some are marked college; some, vocational training; others, jobs.

Whichever journey we follow, we will always remember the paths which brought us to our school and school activities, and the many memories of our high school years.

We present this 1959 Tornado, with the hope that you may relive many of the memories of the roads which we have traveled together.

CLASSES

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

If you will come with us, the class of '59, we will glance back over that long winding road of education over which we have just traveled.

Twelve years ago we started out on a small, dusty road in an old broken-down Ford. We looked ahead to better roads and soon we traveled them. Our car began to have fewer rattles and our way became smoother.

Excitedly 57 of us turned onto a road which was new to us. For drivers our Freshmen year, we chose Sharon Kleimenhagen, President; Charles Thompson, Vice-President; Mary Waters, Secretary-Treasurer; George Coulter, Sgt. at Arms. We stopped long enough to sponsor our first dance, "Autumn Leaves".

Another and smoother highway came before us. Our vehicle developed greater power, and we traveled on. To lead us down this road as Sophomores, we chose George Coulter, President; Philip Peoples, Vice-President; Dick Brown, Secretary-Treasurer; Ernie Bunnell, Sgt. at Arms. "Moonlight Serenade" was the theme of our Sophomore Hop.

Clarence Hayes
President

Ernie Bunnell
Vice President

Frances Ferguson
Treasurer

At last our destination was in sight and we sped down our road toward it. As leaders in our Junior year, we selected Philip Peoples, President; Dennis Kinney, Vice-President; Sandra Cease, Secretary-Treasurer; George Coulter, Sgt. at Arms. For entertainment we presented our first play entitled "No More Homework." "Sayonara" was the theme for our Junior Prom.

We have reached our destination, we are speeding down education's turnpike in a blue and white '59 Cadillac. As Seniors our leaders are Clarence Hayes, President; Ernie Bunnell, Vice-President; Jeanne Kominski, Secretary-Treasurer; Barbara Coulter, Sgt. at Arms.

This road of education is only a small road, yet a very important road, leading to many avenues. We hope to travel on down these roads as individuals and find our real destination; a happy and useful life.

Jeanne Kominski
Secretary

SPORTS HISTORY

The Tornados of '59, captained by George Hobart and Clarence Hayes, won only one game during the season. They defeated Cathalamet 34 to 6. The Inspirational Award went to Clarence Hayes, with George Coulter receiving the Best Blocker and Tackler Award.

In basketball the Tornados started the season slowly but soon gained momentum, winning the last five games of the season. Outstanding among these games was the crushing upset over Bethel, marring the record of the undefeated Bethel Braves. Second place, White River also bowed down in defeat to the Tornados. These victories edged out Eatonville, giving the Tornados 3rd place in the league and a spot in the district tournament.

Meeting Mount Si in the first game of the district tournament, the Tornados defeated them 57 to 54. Tangling Sumner 51 to 80, and Mercer Island 42 to 53, they were dealt defeat.

The Tornados were coached by Bill Ward and Bob Swanberg, and lead by captain George Coulter. The Inspirational Award went to Dennis Kinney and George Coulter.
